

Principal's Message

With the epidemic in the past few years, we have deviated from our usual living habits, cognition and handling methods, etc. and we need to spend all our efforts to understand and adapt to the situation. Although, it has brought changes in children's school and daily life patterns, thank to God's grace and guidance, we can experience and grow together through it, continue to learn and adapt to new things, overcome every test together, and witness God's abundant preparations and efforts.

This year, our school has three goals. The first goal is to integrate the three-in-one curriculum elements of "picture book teaching", "drama teaching" and "game teaching", and make good use of our campus environment and facilities to strengthen students' learning through interesting and meaningful activities as well as self-learning ability. The second is to continue to promote moral education, and gradually establish a positive culture for our school in order to cultivate children, parents, and school teams to have a positive thinking attitude. Our school has always adhered to the school motto "Train up a child in the way he should go, and when he is old, he will not depart from it.(Proverbs 22:6), to cultivate children with the love of Christ, attach importance to their life and moral education, to let every child thrive in a caring and pleasant learning environment, to cultivate good character, to know how to respect and care for others, to learn to appreciate and to cherish life, and to establish a correct values, develop in a balanced way in the six aspects of morality, intelligence, physique, community, beauty, and spirit, and become God's favorite children.

The last goal is to increase opportunities for parents to participate in school activities. Our school attaches great importance to home-school cooperation, such as, parent volunteers, parent-child activities, parent workshops, etc. This year, the "First Parent-Teacher Association" was established. We really appreciate parents who continue to cooperate with us. Together, we hope to promote the close connection between schools and families, establish a partnership between home and school, create a better growing environment for children, and let children have a happy and wonderful childhood.

Our kindergarten has been able to develop steadily and is deeply loved, trusted and supported by parents. They actively participates in school activities and volunteer services and the close home-school cooperation promotes the continuous development of our school. I sincerely thank everyone for their silent support and dedication! May the love and grace of our lord always be with everyone in this big family of Kam Chuen, so that the children can receive cultivation and thrive in a garden full of love! May the lord bless every family with joy and peace! Jesus loves you!

Teacher's Message:

I am very happy to see the progress of the children. I am looking forward to witness more growth in all of you in the next semester! Parents can encourage their children to be independent and "do things by themselves" such as wearing cardigan, buttoning up their clothes, carrying school their school bag and eating by themselves to improve their self-care ability.

Through the game, let's learn different colors!

Bursting Bubble makes us happy!

Is our artwork beautiful?

Let's celebrate Jesus's Birthday together!

What would you like to eat?

Parent's Message:

Dear Kindergarten Teachers,
 Thank you making my child easily adopt to the school environment, many thanks to the teacher's for their caring teaching. My child was reluctant to go to school from the beginning, now he changes his uniform by himself and goes to school every day. After school he will share what interesting activities he did in his lessons today. As his parent, I am very gratified. Moreover, I hope that he can enjoy his school life and study actively in the coming future and able to grow with happiness.

What a Happy Birthday Party!

The last semester has passed and the teacher thinks that you are all smart and cute children. You study hard every day, you know how to get along with your classmates and learn to love those around you. In addition, there has been significant progress in reading and recognition and I appreciate your efforts. In addition, you occasionally tell the teacher that writing is difficult. The teacher suggests that you can rub out the shape of the characters with clay or write with your parents on the paper with pens of different colors according to the strokes, so as to help you master the structure of the characters, and then write. I believe it will be good for you. It will be helpful, continue to accept the challenge next semester, make persistent efforts, work hard!

We made human face masks!

Let's grow different kind of beans together!

Parent's Message

We are very thankful and grateful to the teachers and school for nurturing and polishing our child every day. Your efforts and care can be seen as a reflection through our child. By leaving him in your capable hands, it is obvious that he is getting every knowledge that the world has to offer and on the other side we feel secure and protected. We cannot thank enough for your unfathomable contribution but hope to get continuous love and support. Thank you.

The teacher appreciates that the children have made great progress in this semester. We encourage parents to guide their children to do better in the coming semester. The goals can be:

1. Do things by yourself
2. Learn to study independently
3. Learn to express love towards others with actions

Let's take pictures in front of the mailbox!

We visited the Nature Education Centre to make sachets which was so much fun!
